Grant Writing Workshop for Ayurveda Faculty

It is necessary for Ayurveda Faculty to focus on research, apart from teaching and clinical work. The ability to access funding opportunities that are few and far between, has thus become a critical skill that needs to be developed. Technological advancements including the use of AI tools is also becoming more widespread.

The Academic Staff College is organizing a two – day workshop for Ayurveda Faculty on various aspects of putting together a grant – worthy research proposal including the various stages from identifying a need or gap and formulating a research question that can be expanded to the stage of a competitive research proposal.

Faculty include researchers from across the state who will work with the participants providing hands – on learning opportunities enabling them to write proposal confidently after identifying a funding source. The workshop will ultimately result in improved research opportunities and better patient outcomes.

Objectives:

1. To discuss the various steps of formulating a research proposal.
2. To enable participants to develop an idea and formulate competitive grant - worthy proposals utilizing newer techniques.
3. To empower the faculty to mentor other researchers in their institutes and form research teams capable of writing good research proposals in sync with the requirements of the funding agency.
