

Clarifications regarding promotion of students of B.Pharm course who lacks required attendance for registering for examination.

The students who lacks required attendance for one or more subjects and not eligible to register for examination can make up the attendance shortage either by attending special classes or by continuing with the junior batch. After attaining the required attendance, the student shall be provisionally promoted to the higher class. Only after registering for the next supplementary examinations his/her promotion will be regularised. The attendance in the provisional period will be considered for the next regular examination.
